Indictments for Criminal Prosecutions Are Expected Hourly.

Action Is Apart From Bureau of Corporations Probe.

New York, June 29.-What promises to be the most sensational and farreaching anti-trust action the federal government ever has undertaken is expected to take definite form here today, when a federal grand jury which has been hearing evidence against certain officials of the United States Steel corporation, its subsidiaries and many important steel companies, makes its report.

It is known that the findings of the grand jury promise to be a greater revelation than any of the published rumors have indicated.

Criminal indicated. Criminal indictments charging conspiracy to control the prices of steel and steel products the country over involving men high up in the financia world, are said to be ready. The government's investigations have gone even further, and are said to have reached a law firm of this city which has for years been commonly identified with many so-called trust contracts and pooling agree-Steel Business Divided, Some of the evidence presented to the grand jury is said to show that the steel business in the United States has been divided by agreement into about twenty pools. The pools, it is said, have been formed by agreements between the subsidiaries of the Steel corporation and many of the independents. While the bureau of corporations at Washington has been making an investigation of the Steel corporation for nearly three years, this proposed criminal action is apart from that. The criminal case will not have any con-nection with any suit which the gov-ernment may bring against the Steel

The battleship was laid down on June 16, 1909, and it is expected that another two years will be occupied in equipping the vessel.

The Savastopol has a displacement of 23,000 tons, and with 42,000-horse power is expected to develop a speed of 23 knots an hour. Its length is 590½ feet and the beam is 87 feet. The battleship will carry 3,000 tons of coal and 1,170 tons of naphtha. It's armament will consist of twelve 12-inch guns, sixteen 4.7-inch guns and smaller artillery. Doctor's Purchase of Revolver Attested in Bemidji Courtroom.

Bemidji, Minn., June 29 .- (Special to The Herald.)-In a graphic recital of how he and "Mike" Davis planned with: Dr. D. F. Dumas, mayor of Cass Lake, the robbery and burning of the postoffice building in Puposky, Minn., Martin (Billy) Behan, at Dr. Dumas' preliminary hearing here this morning, struck a stinging blow at the defense and confirmed newspaper accounts of the Puposky affair. Behan, although weak from the shots received at the time of his capture, early on the morning of June 17 following a fight at Puposky, told a straight-forward story, giving evidence that sent the color to the face of the Cass Lake mayor. During all the dra-matic recital Dr. Dumas leaned far forward in his chair, and when Behan told of the saloon plot with Dumas for the purpose of cracking the post-office safe with dynamite and burning the building with turpentine and oil, the doctor's face took an anxion's ex-pression for the first time since his Confirmed Early Story.

The interview was given in the presence of a private detective, and McManigle's statements were principally in response to a list of questions which officials were willing for him to answer.

They related almost exclusively to incidents of the last few days since Mrs. McManigle and her two children arrived from Chicago and arrayed herself on the side of the defense.

He was able to keep Brown off for part of the contest, and at time baffle the range boy by his wonderful skill, but in the end the wonderful fighting ability of end the wonderful fighting ability of Brown came to the fore, and he bear Brown came to the fore, and he beat Allen into submission."

Dr. McNulty says it is the general belief that there is no boy of Brown's weight in the world who can beat him. The development of Brown has been nothing short of phenomenal in the past year. The victory over Allen stamps him as one of the best boys in the world, and it is very likely that in the near future Northern Minnesota will have a native son battling for the world's championship.

Lighting Talks

NUMBER 30

DULUTH, JUNE 29, 1911

Some Few People

have criticised the Duluth-Edison Electric Company for spending its own money with the Duluth newspapers for the publication of these "Lighting Talks." We knew that there would be some such unreasoning and unreasonable criticism, for in every community there are a few constitutional "knockers"—malcontents who are jealous of the good works and the success of others and bitterly prejudiced against all public service corporations.

But we also know that one of the characteristics of the American people is the desire to be fair-minded, and that the great majority of Duluth's citizens are firm believers in the principle of the "Square

How and by whom Electric Service shall be provided in Duluth is a big and important question. Few questions are likely to arise that concern so intimately the welfare, the progress, and the future development of this City.

By reason of the fact that this company has provided Electric Service in Duluth for 23 years—provided a Service ENTIRELY SATISFACTORY to its customers, and a Service that is not surpassed anywhere in the world—we are especially qualified by knowledge and experience to speak on this question. Do YOU know of any better way to reach the intelligent and fair-minded members of this community than through the newspapers?

But we could not ask any newspaper to give us space for the presentation of our side of the question. We do not own any newspaper. We have not attempted to subsidize any newspaper, or to dictate the editorial policy of any. That is PROVED by the fact that we do pay the newspapers their regular rates, just the same as anybody else would have to pay, for the space we use. The ordinary business concern that buys newspaper space to tell the public about its wares or its service is considered enterprising and progressive. How and why does an Electric Light company differ in this regard from any other business concern?

This company is giving the City, and likewise every individual customer, an absolutely Square Deal. We have built this business up on the basic principle of fair and square and honest treatment to all comers. And so long as we remain in the business we guarantee a Square Deal to every customer doing business with us.

We do not ask or hope for any better treatment from the public than we give to the public. We ask nothing more than a Square Deal from the City. We believe we are entitled to that, on our record. Don't YOU?

ODAY this millionth owner of a National Cash Register can say, with every other user:

"I can now make more profit out of my business and give better values to my customers.

"I can handle more customers in the same time and in the same space—divide my running charges among more sales—and take a smaller profit on each sale.

"My business is systematized. I do not rely upon memory. I have no leaks. I know where my money comes from and where it goes, therefore, I control my losses.

"Because I have an automatic record of every penny I receive, I know where I stand; do not over-estimate my buying capacity; carry no more stock than my capital justifies; take my cash discounts; sell my goods for less and still make as much money as formerly.

"My store is a safer store to deal in. I guarantee every sale—give you a receipt which protects you against any dispute or misunderstanding.

"My clerks can be relied upon. With an automatic and indelible history of every purchase, I know what you paid, when you paid it, and to whom it was paid.

"A five-year old child can buy here and the receipt guards you as thoroughly as though you came yourself.

"The National Cash Register is a good thing for me, a good thing for you and a good thing for my employes.

"It makes me more systematic, therefore a better merchant.

"It makes you certain of the lowest prices and the best possible treatment.

"It places my clerks above suspicion.

"It renders our relations more profitable and more agreeable."

MORAN CONFIDENT OF BEATING AD WOLGAST

For some reason hard to explain wolgast is a great fighter. There is scarcely any doubt of that in the minds there is very little dope on the com-ing encounter between Owen Moran and the may not be as great as Nelson or ing encounter between Owen Moran and Ad Wolgast.

Here is a fight that one would nather the intervent of the control of the co urally suppose should attract the at- customer, and it seems the logical contention of the fight fans throughout clusion that he should be made the the length and breadth of the coun-

The fight should be one of the greatest fought in a long time. It is an encounter that the fans have looked forward to for a long time, and, as stated before, why it is not attracting more attention over the country, is attention.

Meager reports coming out of old San Francisco, the gay and picturesque fight center of the United States, state that the little Britisher is in grand condition. The same reports lead us to believe that Wolgast is not working with his usual dash.

Reports from the training camps are sometimes misleading. It is a very good bet that the Dutchman will enter the ring in the best of shape. Shrewdness and caution are part of the nature of the champion, just as these qualities have contributed to the success of the German race down through the centuries of history.

Wolgast is not in the least undertaining the country, is something rather puzzling. Confidence gayly does a daily high-land fling in the Moran quarters. According to reports Moran is the very embodiment of supreme self-confidence. He has for many months believed that he could beat the champion, and as the day for the battle draws near this belief seems to be growing.

Wolgast seems to be going ahead with his future plans, just if the fight were over and he had been declared the winner. Confidence is one of the many successful qualities of the champion's make-up. When two first-class boys are as confident, as brave and as game as the two men who are carded to battle on the glorious day we celethrough the centuries of history.

Wolgast is not in the least underrating Moran, one of the greatest fighters of the age. He knows he is facing a test, and it seems hardly likely that the recent conqueror of Frankie Burns will be a bit off color when the gong sends the boys off on the battle.

BROWN WINS DECISION OVER CANADIAN CHAMP

Hibbing, Minn., June 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pal Brown gained the decision over Bill Allen, Canadian lightweight champion, at Hibbing last evening. The fight went fifteen rounds and the range boy was coming strong in the last five, and in the opinion of the majority of spectators would have knocked Allen out had the fight gone another round.

The little Canadian proved a foeman worthy of the best Brown had. For ten rounds he fought even, giving as good as he received, and at times electrifying the crowd by fighting Brown to a standstill and showing cleverness and speed superior to the range battler.

But in the end the terrific purching.

But in the end the terrific punching powers of Brown began to have their effect. He weakened Allen by terrific between the boys.

GAMBLE TO OPPOSE BILL

South Dakota Senator Scheduled for Speech Friday.

Reciprocity Is the Principal Theme at Washing-

Washington, June 29.-While both branches of congress were in session today, interest continued to center in the senate, where the opponents of the agreements with Canada now have fairly begun their attack on the reciprocity bill. A speech by Senator Gamble of South Dakota against the measure, a continuance of the remarks of Senator Cummins of Iowa, who denounced the bill as obviously unjust and proposed amendments augmenting the number of Canadian products admitted free under the bill, was prearranged.

Senator Gamble's speech was postponed until tomorrow. Chairman Penrose of the finance committee, in charge of the bill, adheres to his program of persistently offering his request for unanimous consent to fix a date for a vote on reciprocity, wool and the free list bills, and may renew that request at any time.

SENTIMENT OR BUSINESS?

ON WHICH BASIS DO YOU BUY ADVERTISING SPACE?

Some men buy advertising space in a paper because the paper tells them that "it deserves their support," not because the space will produce results.

Then they charge the amount up to their advertising An advertising appropriation is the seed of the modern business, properly sown and cultivated it will multiply a hundred fold.

So that each cent taken from the advertising appropriation robs the advertiser not of one cent, but of a potential dollar.

Be charitable, not with the seed, but out of the abundance of the harvest! Next time a paper approaches you with an appeal for your "support"-subscribe for the paper out of your private purse if you like, and have it sent to a friend, but don't buy alleged "advertising" space and deduct the cost from the amount you can afford to spend

Business and sentiment are oil and water—they won't mix. The heavy-lidded poppies luxuriate over the business-graves of hundreds who have refused to accept this And remember-every time you "buy" 10 cents worth of space in a worthless advertising medium, you are throwing nine dollars and ninety cents into the lake.

That isn't even charity—it's just foolishness!

In the rioting during the early part of the evening, the police injured several persons with their batons in an endeavor to disperse the strikers, and the latter retaliated by using black jacks.

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 30.—No lives have been lost in the fire in the Chieftain mine of the Clarksburg Coal company at Wilsonburg, according to the mine officials here today, and the fire is still burning with every indication of destroying the entire mine. Every available man has been put to work cementing every opening to the mine in an effort to smother the flames. That the fire was of incendiary origin is the firm belief of the mine officials, though they are unable to assign any reason. It was discovered yesterday afternoon by one of the minestant of the stand as its first witness, Julius Gewecke, attorney for Mrs. Agnes See, declared that he has in his possession, affidavits in which See swears that every lite in the "Book of Truth" was written by himself and Mona Rees.

It is expected that presentation of the defense of Evelyn Arthur See will require a week. The court has ruled out four counts of the indictment, two charging concubinage and two charging abduction for immoral purposes. This leaves counts against See charging concubinage, contributing to the delinquency of a child, and abduction.

Chicago Man Attempts to Refute Lorimer Case Testimony.

Brings Receipts of Bills to Show He Was Not in Chicago.

Denies Absolutely the Testimony Duluth Man Gave at Hearing.

Washington, June 30 .- With his pockets buiging with documents, Edward Hines, the millionaire Chicago lumberman, who is charged with having expressed knowledge of a Lorimer election fund, today resumed the witness stand before the senate committee investigating the election of Senator Lorimer.

Mr. Hines' counsel sought to show by these papers that Mr. Hines was not in Chicago last February, about the time Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, says Mr. Hines called upon him to refresh his memory in regard to the famous Union League conversation in which, Mr. Funk testified, Mr. Hines asked him to contribute $10,000 to reimburse a $100,000 election fund.

Bills for services rendered him at a Washington hotel for the month prewashington noter for the month preceding March 4 were presented. The first bill was for five days, the bill amounting to $355.50.

"Better read the items," suggested Senator Kern.

The largest item was $250 cash; another bill was for more than $600.

"Wasn't it possible, as far as these bills are concerned, for you to have been absent from the city and for your wife to have remained alone at the hotel?" asked Senator Jones.

"Yes, sir; I went to Philadelphia once, but never to Chicago."
The witness produced a plat of the Chicago river, over the treatment of which there is said to have been a controversy between the International Harvester company on one side and Senator Lorimer, Mr. Hines and others on the other side. Cross-examined by Attorney Marble for the committee, Mr. Hines said that at the event me Mr. Hines said that at the exact mo-ment Senator Lorimer was elected he New York, June 30. - Government (Hines) was at the Union League club Vandalia, Ill., June 30. — Physicians attending Miss Hazel Schmidt, who has been sleeping almost continuously. has been sleeping almost continuously grand jury investigation to begin next saying it was between 1:30 and 3 p. m. ### Editorial

The Glad Hand

-You know how good it makes you feel in a strange place to have folks gather round and give you the "glad hand."
The feeling is natural and reasonable.

-It is the same way with manufacturing interests. When a city shows its loyalty to its manufacturers, factories remain and prosper. That means a steady increase in prosperous, desirable citizens. Moreover, such a city becomes very popular with manufacturers all over the country. They like to locate in a "live" loyal community.

—Duluth loyalty to Duluth products gives this city a high standing among the cities of the United States. Here, if anywhere, we give our manufacturers hearty welcome and support. This is the Duluth spirit.

-The Glass Block Store with its Duluth-made window displays shows its desire to fall in line with the Duluth spirit in giving the "glad hand" to Duluth manufacturers.

Down on Michigan street the petato market is holding up fairly well, although prices are lower than last week. Shipments from the Central states have begun to arrive and new potatoes are more plentiful. The Texas and Louisiana potatoes are out of the market. The quality of the new arrivals is good, although they are small. The high prices induced farmers in other states to dig their potatoes sooner than they had expected. Old potatoes have been arriving in more numerous quantities. Apparently some farmers held on to supplies in the belief that prices would be stiff in the spring and summer. Their theory has been borne out by facts. While potatoes are lower, prices for old varieties are from $1 to $1.25 a bushel.

Chicago, June 30.—A coroner's jury which investigated the death of Marcel G. The jury also called upon the state legislature to enact laws which would prevent the repetition of such accidents.

Norwegian Lutherans for Amalgamation With United Lutherans. St. Paul, Minn., June 30 .- By indorsing a committee appointed with that end in view, the Norwegian Lutherans went on record for a union with the United Lutherans. The committee had worked with a committee of the United church earlier in the month, but could come to no agreement. President Stub of the Norwegian Lutherans favored the appointment of an entirely new committee to meet with the new committee from the United Church, but the majority of the delegates were afraid that this would cast discredit on their old committee, and so the first

The district presidents duties were again up for discussion and the presidents of the different districts were instructed to visit each parish in their districts at least once in every three years. ### DECREASED COMMERCE

Decline in Traffic on Great Lakes During Month of May.

Falling Off Due to the Smaller Shipments of Iron

tween American ports on the Great Lakes shows a considerable reduction as compared with the commerce for May, 1910. The freight tonnage during the month, as reported by the bureau of statistics of the department of comstatistics of the department of com- year. merce and labor, aggregated 8,755,205 short tons compared with 11,255,988 short tons for May 1910, and 7,097,546 short tons for May 1909. The decline in the total traffic is due principally to the smaller shipments of iron ore from Lake Superior and Michigan ports, the total for the month, 3,704,261 long tons, falling almost 40 per cent short of the corresponding shipments a year ago. Shipments from Duluth-Superior, which in May, 1910, totaled 3,116,835 long tons, aggregated but 2,195,147 long tons; shipments from Two Harbors show even a heavier decline from 1,075,362 long tons to 687,461 long tons, while ship-

May receipts at Lake Michigan ports, mainly at Chicago, Gary and Indiana Harbor, fell from 1,076,065 long tons to 701,155 long tons, though the quantities delivered during the month at Gary docks show an increase from 226,861 long tons to 238,948 long tons.

The domestic shipments.

The domestic shipments of coal during the month, including the quantities of bunker coal supplied to vessels in the domestic trade, aggregated 2,652,-838 short tons, of which 424,959 short tons represent hard coal shipments, 2,040,117 short tons shipments of soft coal, 187,762 short tons bunker coal supplied to vessels in the domestic trade.

The discovery of the jaw bone, with six teeth and a great mass of bone, believed to be a part of the head of the mastodon, along with the large bones that seemed intact with bones still in the ground, has led the men to believe they have made a great find.

One piece of the jaw bone is twenty-eight inches long. It has six teeth, each tooth measuring nearly four inches square and all in a remarkable state of preservation.

FALSE TEETH OF HICKORY

plied to vessels in the domestic trade.
As compared with May, 1910, figures, Made By Nonagenarian Who Has there was a slight gain in the ship-ment of soft coal, while the shipments of anthracite declined almost 100,000 Over 90 per cent of the hard Lake Superior ports; receipts at Lake Michigan ports totaled 718,620 short tons, while over 70,000 short tons were landed at Lake Huron ports.

The lumber shipments during the month, 150,319 thousand feet, were about 7 per cent smaller in volume than 1 year ago, the decrease affecting equally the shipments from Lake Michigan as well as Lake Superior ports: all the larger receiving ports with the expeption of Buffalo showing smaller totals than a year ago.

This ingenous nonagenarian declares that the "teeth made from hickory are far superior to those supplied to mankind by the average dentist.

Grain Shipments.

Grain shipments during the month, 14,349,777 bushels, compare favorably with the corresponding May, 1910, shipments of 10,739,913 bushels. Of the total shipped 3,529,636 bushels was wheat, proceeding mainly from Chicago and Duluth-Superior; corn shipments during the month, mainly from Chicago, aggregated 7,232,282 bushels, a quantity more than double that shipped in May, 1910; shipments of oats during the month, chiefly from Chicago, Manitowoc, Milwaukee and Duluth-Superior, totaled 3-177,955 bushels, or slightly less than in May, 1910. Shipments of barley, 347,905 bushels; rye, 35,900 bushels, and flaxseed, 26,099 bushels, were smaller than a year ago. Flour shipments during the month, 112,533 short tons of 10 barrels each, show a slight increase of over the 1910 figures, larger ship-Duluth-Superior; corn shipments during ments from Chicago and Gladstone being chiefly responsible for this increase. shipments of pig iron, iron manufactures, copper and salt during the month were on a smaller scale than a year before; shipments of unclassed articles, 1,018,546 short tons, chiefly made up of package freight, show a considerable increase over the corresponding 1910 figures.

The Soo Traffic.

A similar decrease in the volume of monthly traffic is shown by the figures of the Sault Ste. Marie canal authorities.

of the Sault Ste. Marie canal authorities of the Sault Ste. Marie canal authorities, who report a total tonnage for the month of 6,125,018 short tons, compared with 8,528,286 short tons for May of the preceding year, the large decrease being due primarily to the smaller movement of iron ore.

The vessel movement during the month as gauged by the number of vessel departures, 8,580, was slightly larger than the year before, when 8,506 departures were reported. The lighter traffic for the month is shown by the smaller vessel tonnage reported, 11,474,607 net tons register, as against 13,429,098 net tons register for May, 1910. It is seen that while the number of vessels cleared during the month was larger than the year before, the average size of these vessels declined 15 per cent, owing, no doubt, to the smaller traffic in Iron ore and the lighter movement of the relatively large vessels engaged in that traffic. sels engaged in that traffic. which have been and are taking place all over the province. Church union has been talked of in Ontario for many years. For a good long time it has been more or less of a live issue. It is heard of in synods, conferences and assemblies and has been endorsed so often that people on the outside wonder why it is still a proposal and not an achievement. Church after church has declared in favor of the principle of a union of the evangelical bodies under some sort of working arrangement. A whole lot of sympathy has been expressed but so far the basis of union has not been hammered out. Just as this time, however church union seems this time, however, church union seems to have found an ally in the famous ne temere decree of the Roman Catholic body in respect to mixed marriages. The Protestant churches of Ontario have within the last few days nearly all gone on record through their representatives as opposed to the working of the ne temere decree and the Anglican synod of Toronto wants the men under its jurisdiction to conduct a thorough inquiry into the workings of the decree with a view to obtaining action.

The feeling among Ontario Protestants has already resulted in a number of questions put to the government as to what action, if any, can be taken, and the answer has been that no law of Canada has been violated and that the government does not propose to take action. Since these answers were given, other religious bodies have expressed themselves in unequivocal terms, and something like church union is in sight in the common cause which the Protestant churches are making to preserve, as they say, the sanctity of The agitation began in Toronto and is perhaps stronger in the Ontario cap-

EFFICIENCY

Scientific Management and Efficiency in United States Navy.

New York, June 30 .- From that day at Santiago when the American fleet destroyed the battleships of Spain, the nation has taken growing interest and pride in its new navy. "At the close of the Spanish war," writes Lieut. Commander Walter B. Tardy, U. S. N., in the current issue of the Engineering Magazine, "the press and the people were satisfied with the navy. It had been successful, and thus efficiency was taken for granted. But when stock was eventually taken, the small percentage of hits made became known, and naval officers realized that something must be done to justify the

The result of that realization is what Lieut. Commander Tardy embodies in his paper on scientific management and efficiency in the United States "It is not uncommon to human experience," he observes, "for different experimenters working at similar problems independently and without any knowledge of one another's efforts, to arrive independently and taneously at the same discoveries. Something like this has happened in the case of the navy and civil establishments; for only since the technical and popular press took up the general discussion of scientific manage-ment, have naval officers begun to realize that their management was of the kind now so strenously advocated for industrial pursuits of all sorts." Fighting Efficiency.

This efficiency may be divided into three parts—efficiency of the gun crew; three parts—efficiency of the gun crew; efficiency of the fighting unit, or the ship; and efficiency of the fighting division or fleet. For it is with fighting efficiency that a fighting machine, such as a navy is intended to be, is first concerned. But the effort for efficiency has not been bounded by fighting drill. Important economies have been won in engine practice. have been won in engine practice; the aim has been to make engineering count equally with gunnery in de-termining the final ship efficiency. Celerity in coaling, and economy in the stoke hold and engine room, when the stoke hold and engine room, when translated into action mean that a given ship, run to the full of her capacity, is able to steam just so much farther, to attain just so much wider a cruising radius, to clear from port in a hurry just so much more speed in a desperate pinch, than the same ship or her sister when clackly officered or her sister when clackly officered. Counting engineering equally with gunnery in determining the final performance of any ship—since to work her guns on the enemy her engines must first carry her into and keep her in range—the navy set itself this standard, as embodied in the rules for battle practice, 1911, and quoted by Lieut. Tardy: "The measure of the battle efficiency of any vessel is her ability to deliver the greatest number of hits in the shortest possible time." of hits in the shortest possible time after the enemy 's sighted, and with the least expenditure of coal." In this direction let us see what has been done. "The Texas," writes Commander Tardy, "was one of the American ships in the battle of Santiago.

Less than 3 per cent of all the shells fired in this battle by the American fleet hit the enemy. There is no record that a single twelve-inch or thirteen-inch shell took effect. The ranges were less than 3,000 yards. Recently the New Hampshire used the old Texas as a target. She fired at ranges of from 10,000 to 11,500 yards and landed

The Michigan's Record. "Recently the Michlgan, an all big gun ship, made 22 twelve-inch hits at ranges of 10,000 yards while steaming at fifteen knots, the target being only 60 feet long by 30 feet high. She fired forty-eight twelve-inch shells. Her percentage of hits therefore was about orty-five. The rate of firing was about two shots per minute per gun. This in a moderately rough sea, while the sea was smooth at the battle of Santiwhole salvoes on the Texas whenever

These and other similar results recently induced the secretary of the navy to say in an address delivered before the New York Economic club: "Scientific and the says tific management experts who saw the recent battle practice tell me that the battleship is the finest exhibition of scientific management they have Lieut. Tardy tells how this efficiency "Every officer in charge of any part of a ship's battery," he writes, "was required to improvise the equipment and develop the best method of train-ing within his capacity. *** After each had formulated and tried out tentatively a drill they they came together each accepting whatever was best in the other's drill. The interchange of deas was not restricted to one ship. but after each ship had developed her method of drill and training, the officers of all the ships, by frequent con-ferences and by studying methods of practice throughout the fleet, crystallized all that was good into the first experimental, approximate drill regulations and instructions for our new ship. All guns and ships were put on a competitive basis. The result to be a competitive basis. The result to be achieved was definitely settled: 'The hits per gun per minute.'

Each Man Studied.

'Now, with this approximate, standarized drill, it became necessary for the battery officers to train their gun crews individually and collectively. Each man was studied both as to his mental and physical fitness. If the man gave promise of being able to do well the thing for which he was selected, a course of thorough, detailed instructions and drill was given to him. Finally, when the man did each and every thing required of him with accuracy ally, when the man did each and every thing required of him with accuracy and confidence, there began a process of systematically increasing the speed. Each motion was timed by the stop watch, records of time were kept, and the man began to feel like a sprinter. "When all turret and gun crews have been thoroughly trained, each man as a unit, and each crew as a team, so that each human element team, so that each human element has in reality become a perfect fitting cog in a gear train, the ship is ready for elementary target practice. Prizes, for elementary target practice. Prizes, both for the individual ship and for the navy are offered for the best gun of each calibre. If the score made by a gun is exceptionally high, every man in the crew is furnished by the department with a letter E, to be worn on his sleeve for the year. This E corresponds in the navy to the H or the Y won by a Harvara or Yale crew or football team.

"Having trained the individual developed the individual gun crew, perfected the mechanism, and learned from the results of elementary practice what results to expect under favorable conditions from individual firing, it became necessary to train for firing, it became necessary to train for battle efficiency. To this end, both turret guns were fired at the same instant; then methods of control were perfected and all guns of battle range on the ship were fired in salvo (or all at once.) This perfected the use of a ship as a unit. The final step was to control a division so that all the guns of four ships could be used as a unit."

It was his favorite waltz, but he stood at the far end of the wantz, but he stood at the far end of the ball room, leaning languidly against one of the massive pillars that supported the brilliantly lighted dome. With an aimless indolence, he watched one couple after another whirl past and Fragments of their conversation came to him at intervals, softly blended with the musical laughter of women. He knew many of the women. For the past five years he had danced and laughed and flirted with them, to some made love—but all that was over now; at least, it would be on the morrow, for then he was to marry Mildren Van Rassalas.

This was his last bachelor ball. He scarcely knew why he had come. He felt out of place. Already the people had begun to stare wonderingly at him, and that saucy little debutante, Rosa Carey, had just glided up to him whispering something about "the great pity that she wasn't there to make life worth living!"

Stirring the fire that glowed in the grate he sank into a chair. The sound of the "Auf Widersehen" rang in his ears. With it came a flood of memories, and the faces and forms of his old loves took semblance in his mind.

There was Alice—what a bright little creature she was! They had met over at the Nevin's, at some informal affair. It was only a flirtation at first, but such things will turn out differently at

He vividly recalled the night he wrote that letter, telling her all, and asking if he might come to hear the glad answer from her own lips.

Recently he often had been seen with a beautiful young woman, who was said to have been Evelyn Thaw, wife of Harry Thaw. This woman was a counterpart of Mrs. Thaw, and it was at the time Mrs. Thaw was visiting in Europe. Later, it was denied that the woman was Mrs. Thaw, and it was claimed that the mistake had been made because of the unfortunate experience she and Thomas had in the Hotel Knickerbocker in New York, when they were ordered out of the dining room by Manager Regan, the latter explaining that Mrs. Thaw had received too much notoriety to be a desirable guest in his hotel.

CIRCUS TRAIN

This Is One of Most Interesting Sights of the Day.

The most interesting incident of cirto avail themselves of the opportunity, is the arrival and unloading of the five special railway trains bearing the circus paraphernalia and the animals. There are 500 beautiful horses with the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth which gives two exhibitions in Duluth next Saturday.

One of the especially interesting sights is the performance of two mammoth elephants in getting out of their huge car.

The other elephants in this remarkable herd of forty rare specimens of Asiatic and African origin in vacating their travelling compartments walk down a heavy gang-plank that inclines from the car door down to the ground. The car doors are ten feet high, which of course makes the big elephants stoop to get through as they step out upon the descending plank. The two mammoths are so tall and so wide, however, that they cannot get out of the money, which report said came from his mother after his own estate of $10,000,000 or more practically was til all of their traveling mates have

Thomas and his mother took up their abode at a hotel, and there were many conferences between the mother and her children. The elder Mrs. Thomas is an immensely wealthy woman. It is said here that her in

Two important reforms the postoffice department must concede sooner or later: the parcels post and 1-cent letter postage.

Of these two things the parcels post is the more important because it will bring more benefit to more peogle; but there is no reason on earth why both shouldn't come. There is no reason for antagonism between the two campaigns. They would work better and more effectively to jetter, because the parcels post system would turn the $30,000,000 annual loss on the rural free delivery Charleston: service into a profit, and thus make 1-cent postage pos-

Rural routes radiate from Duluth in several directions, teaching many farmers. There isn't any reason on earth why Duluth consumers shouldn't be getting daily their supplies of butter, eggs and produce from these farmers over these rural routes, or why Duluth merchants! shouldn't be sending merchandise to the farmers in the same way-no reason on earth except that this country, alone in that respect among the civilized nations of the globe, has no parcels post system.

Says the Chicago Tribune: "The express monopoly is the illegitimate child of our postal policy. How that policy developed need not be discussed now. It is a sinister history, a chapter in the vicious influence of subterranean boss politics in congress. But however enlightening that history may be, it is more important now to study its fruit, the postal policy which has neglected the employment of our great postal machinery, has insisted upon the development only of a portion of its efficiency, all. If this rank discrimination were made by a hated trust it would not be so surprising. But it is made by our own postoffice department, which you, Mr. Consumer, own just as much as anybody else. It is made by an institution which belongs to the people, yet which refuses to serve the people as they should be served, preferring to turn that service over to rich private corporations which profit enormously by it because of the exorbitant rates they charge.

All eatables, that form so large an item on the bill of fare of the average householder, such as potaoes, peas, lettuce, radishes, onions, omatoes, etc., are to be found there. As to size, the gardens range from little plots of a few feet each to as much as a half acre. They will yield all the way from a few fresh appetizing messes to enough vegetables to supply a family for the year. In sparsely settled portions the patches are large enough set that re large enough so that market gar lening can be done on a large scale. Market gardening has always been more or less evident in the West end, but this year, it is claimed that there are at least three times as many gardens as there were last year. Hardly a block can be found, but that has from one to a dozen gardens. West end cople, it is said, have responded more generally to the past year's campaign for homecrofting on the part of the newspapers and clubs, than any other portion of the city.

"Homecrofting has come to stay," said a West end business man yesterday, "and here in the West end, it means the saving of many thousands of dollars to our people, that otherwise would be expended for necessities. The 'high cost of living' or the 'cost of high living,' whichever you prefer, will receive a bad jolt in the West end this season."

They marched through the streets and to the Empress, where they stormed Manager Maitland's house and made him think he was back to the marble and the old swimmin' hole stage.

They acted nicely during the acts that preceded "Noodles" appearance, but when he stuck his head out of the side of the stage entrance the storm broke and the clouds of enthuslasm drenched the house. A roar that could be heard a mile away went up from the youngsters. There he was. Every one of those boys knew that "Noodles" wanted him for his personal friend and they were not afraid to call him "Noodles." He sang Ted Snyder's song hits and the boys sang with him.

Then there was a novel contest. All the boys were in on it. They were told to yell "Herald, all About the Big Fire." The smallest newsie had the best voice and won this contest. Then there was the flour dive. One kid went head first in the pan and came up with the paper ball in his mouth. The other prizes were hotly contested for. The Herald gave cash prizes.

"Those hardships wouldn't be tolerated by a city like Duluth," said Noodles, "but they are common for the newsboy without a home in New York."

Before he had finished his graphic description of the terrible life of a homeless youngster in the great city, dozens of children were weeping, and some of the older folks were shedding tears also.

"There's not a boy down there in that audience no metallic production."

that audience, no matter where you that audience, no matter where you were born or what country your parents came from, that isn't an American, and that doesn't know what the liberty bell stands for, and what Old Glory means," said "Noodies."

"It's a pretty good old country to live in, isn't it fellows? And you are mighty glad you are Americans, aren't you?" Of course you are, every one. "But it isn't enough to be glad. You're little citizens now, and you're going to grow up to be big citizens some day. And now it's up to you to be the sort of boys your country wants, and the sort of men she needs, and to work hard to keep America the best nation on earth.

"You can't do these things by talking, fellows. You've got to work. You've got to get your cheering into your lives. See that?"

They saw. They called back their answer to Noodles' question from the orchestra seats and the balconies and the boxes. But that little talk on patriotism isn't the only thing that the boys are going to remember. There was so much else in Noodles' "straight talk" much else in Noodles' "straight talk" today that the boys are thinking about, and are going to keep on thinking about, just because it's all too interesting to forget.

Why, how were the boys to know that some funny Indian women way out in Arizona or Colorado or some far-off place painted their faces with stove blacking and thought they looked nice, if Noodles hadn't told them Noodles said he didn't think it was much silier for red women to put stove polish on their faces than for girls with white faces to put corn Newsies Amazed.

And there was that man in Hawaii that was 125 years old, and was selling things just like a newsboy. Noodles said that lots of people in Hawaii lived to be 125. He said they lived out of doors, and they knew queer things about wonderful medicines that could cure smallpox in three days and that they were awfully queer people to be sort of Americans, They really are sort of Americans, Noodles explained.

Then there are those Mexican families that live on 16 cents a day. Well, some of the boys had done that on slow days. They knew how those Mexicans felt all right.
"Noodles" warned the boys present to leave cigarettes and strong drinks alone and to take advantage of the to leave cigarettes and strong drinks alone and to take advantage of the excellent schools and opportunities this city offered, to be kind to their parents and live as they should.

"Noodles" explained how he got that name. When he was selling papers, a man asked him to get a pail of soup. Fagan did so and secured noodle soup. The Herald.)—According to friends of Toivo Hiltunen, editor of a local Socialist paper, the intervention of Victor Berger of Milwaukee, member of congress, in Hiltunen's application for citizenship papers means the Hancock man will be successful. Hiltunen's plea for citizenship papers made before Circuit Judge Streeter at Houghton, was refused June 5. Berger has written Hiltunen, asking for facts in the case and has promised every possible aid. Hiltunen was refused franchise because he was convicted of a violation of a Hancock ordinance and was mixed up in the celebrated red flag case and demonstration here three years ago, at which time a Socialist parade carrying red flags was mobbed and later dispersed by the police. Hiltunen is Finnish. Hiltunen's petition was denied on recommendation of Examiner Roethet of the United States naturalization bureau. Berger has not naturalization bureau. Berger has not outlined the steps he proposes to take in the matter. Hiltunen will likely appeal the decision of the circuit court judge to the Michigan supreme court, being given this permission, and it is believed Berger will assist him in the City Being Considered for Next State Christian Endeavor Convention.

International Field Secretary of Movement Looking Over the Field.

H. H. Rottmann, international field secretary of the Christian Endeavor movement, with Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia in his jurisdiction, is in Duluth today looking the ground over with a view to having the annual state convention of the Christian Endeavor held here next |*

Mr. Rottmann has just come from Minneapolis, where the annual state convention of the Caristian Endeavor was held. There were over 800 delegates in attendance and some monster meetings were held, it being necessary to hold overflow meetings to take care of the crowds of those interested in the work of the convention. There will be a meeting this evening at the Lakeside Presbyterian church, at which representatives of the eleven societies of Christian Endeavor in this city will be present. At this evening's meeting Mr. Rottmann will take up the matter of holding the next annual state convention in Duiuth, and some opinions will be sought of the various heads of the local societies. Crookston, Bemidji and several other towns in the northern part of the state are after the convention. There is some doubt as to the ability of these towns to take care of the delegates, and for that reason, should there be the right kind of sentiment expressed this evening toward holding the convention here, it is thought that Duluth Two commercial organizations have already promised to contribute liberally, shold Duluth land the convention. ## WHAT CAN A BOY DO IN DULUTH?

A Plea for Fair Play for Boys.

To the Editor of The Herald:

WHAT CAN A BOY DO IN DULUTH?

He wants and needs fun, play and noise. He is entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. We find that he is often unwisely and unjustly suppressed at home. The neighbors treat him as a nuisance. He may not play on the street or even on vacant lots. No public playgrounds are available for his sports.

As an individual his rights are disregarded, his wants contemned and his needs neglected He is often fed as a dog is fed, the theory being that a boy will eat anything that is set before him in any slovenly fashion, because he is perennially hungry. His sleeping quarters are often uninviting and badly tended. Members of his own family frequently regard him as an infliction.

Neighbors always do. The city fathers endeavor to choke off his amusements, as for instance, prohibiting the exhibition of a circus on Saturday, the only week-day the boy is not at school. The city fathers will not permit him to enjoy the pleasures they were allowed in their youth. The boy may not shoot fireerackers or fireworks on the Fourth of The "sane Fourth" that is prated about so much is but a form of tantalizing torture for the boy, who has been deprived of the ancient right to celebrate as his father did, and given nothing in lieu thereof. He has nothing to do, nowhere to go and no place where he can enjoy freedom from unwise and unnecessary restrictions. There are no decent or safe swimming pools or public baths

He can't let out a yell, throw a baseball or kiek a football without scaring up an angry magnate, whose peace and dignity is disturbed, and a policeman subserviently follows in his wake. Our boys are becoming intractable, sullen, destructive and bellious under such treatment.

As they get older they will withdraw themselves from the home and community influence and build their shacks in the ontlying woods where they will do just what their fathers do in their clubs. When the boys reach an age when they feel they are men they will have formed many unwholesome habits; they will be totally beyond the control of their parents and will have a contemptuous disregard for the nagging, petty blue laws of the short-sighted, greed-devoured community in which it has been the boys' misfortune to be born. They will have been driven precoclously and prematurely to indulge in the questionable pleasures and pastimes of their foolish elders.

The boys' Y. M. C. A. is doing what it can with its limited means and is working on the right track, but it cannot reach one-hundredth part of the boy population. If we want to build up the community on a solid basis we must provide justly and sensibly for the boys Their first need in life is clean, wholesome amusement and sports.

They need a place where they will have elbow room and leg room; where they may make a noise; where they can indulge their love of fun and where their boisterous spirits may freely effervesce. If there ever was anything in that motto: "Do It for Duluth," nobler and greater than the sordid plea of a dollar-mad commercialism, it might be applied to alleviating the miseries and righting the GEORGE A. FLINN. wrongs of the boys of the city.

The organization of an architectural club for Duluth was completed last evening with a membership of sixteen draftsmen and architects. Many others engaged in the same business will join the new club before the next meeting, and it is expected that before long every local draftsman and architect will affiliate himself with the organ.

The purpose of the club is for the advancement of architecture and the alled arts and the promotion of education and good fellowship among its members.
